The School for the Blind

Dear Friends and Supporters,

In the most recent quarterly report from the School for the Blind, we learn that the School arranged a special Braille workshop (i.e. form of writing with dots used by the Blind), so that students and teachers could learn a new technique with modern equipment, something that will help them in the future. On another day the School invited visually able students from other schools in Cooch Behar, so they could get insight into how the visually impaired go about studying. “At the same time, our students learnt how to build social connections,” report the School’s spokesperson Raj Chhetri.

Greetings from SB Foundation via us on the Board, Arne, Elisabeth, Gloria, Lena, Roger
